- On March 5, 2013, the Philadelphia Police Department, Special Victims Unit, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania ("PA") initiated an investigation regarding a female victim held captive in a room for a period of time. The victim said she was locked in a second floor bedroom of a home where she was repeatedly forced to engage in sexual acts with approximately 20 different men. The victim was under constant supervision at all hours of the day by two different males, nicknamed "Butch" and "Giovanni."
- 2. Investigation by detectives from the Special Victims Unit, Philadelphia Police Department identified Scan Murphy ("Murphy") as the male known as Butch. As a result, Philadelphia Police obtained an arrest warrant in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for Murphy charging him with aggravated assault, false imprisonment, and rape violations. Murphy's home address listed on the warrant is 58 E 130th Street, Apartment 4A, New York, New York. See attached arrest warrant.
- 3. The Philadelphia Police Department made several attempts to locate Murphy at his prior known family addresses, but were unsuccessful. Law enforcement made contact with members of Murphy's immediate family who were advised Murphy is currently wanted for rape.
- 4. In conjunction with a on-going gang investigation, the FBI Newark Division, observed all three of Murphy's known vehicles parked outside of 2710 7th Avenue, Hammonton, New Jersey. Murphy's vehicles were observed at this residence on March 20, 2013.
- 5. Due to the above facts, your affiant believes Scan Murphy has fled the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, in violation of Title 18 United States Code Section 1073.
